COHORT

Save students money with lower FX rates & no fees, ever.

Cohort Go is a global payments platform, providing an easier and faster way to manage international payment.

Save you and your students time and money with your own dedicated inbound payments portal. Students can save on their tuition fees by paying in their local currency at competitive foreign exchange rates and no transfer fees.

Track payments every step of the way.

The dashboard enables you to understand the pipeline of payments initiated and settled with your institution.

The platform fast-tracks the entire process by eliminating unidentified, missing or short balance international payments, protecting you from the unpredictability of international transactions.

Simplify the complex & costly outgoing payments process.

Save on outbound payments, from agent commissions to student refunds and international supplier payments. With access to all major currencies, providers can consolidate multiple invoices into one domestic payment, with better foreign exchange rates and lower transfer fees.

Training & communication for your agents and students.

Create and share training documents with your agents, and track automated student notifications, all without leaving the platform. Get the most out of your payments portal with your customised marketing kit to boost stakeholder engagement.

Global support team & dedicated customer success manager.

Represented across 12 countries, our global team is committed to supporting your needs in-country and abroad.

With a focus on creating the best customer experience, your dedicated Client Services Manager offers user training, strategic and account support, and proactive case management.
